What is the AsyncAPI Conference?

What is it?

The AsyncAPI Conf on Tour is an official event created by the AsyncAPI Initiative. This conference is aimed primarily at the community to share and exchange experiences between existing users and new members. We plan to integrate new members into the community and expand their knowledge about the project.

The objective of the AsyncAPI Conf on Tour is to enhance the online event experience by hosting physical events across the globe. Each location will feature its own keynote speakers, panels, and networking events, allowing attendees to participate in person while still connecting with the larger global community.

This year the event takes place in these different locations

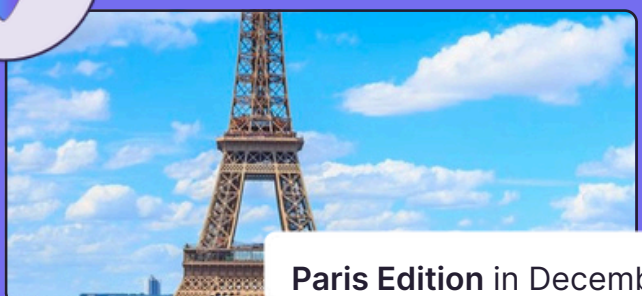

Helsinki Edition in May

London Edition in September

Online Edition in October

Paris Edition in December

Why become a sponsor?

AsyncAPI is an open initiative that defines asynchronous APIs. It is a project that advocates the freedom of tools and users. By supporting an open-source project, we facilitate the work of a community that aims to create democratizing tools.

Supporting the AsyncAPI Conf on Tour will help nurture a growing initiative shaped by and for its community. Ultimately, the project belongs to the community and will continue to do so. They are the people who dedicate their time, effort, and passion to AsyncAPI.

For more information on AsyncAPI, please visit our project's website.
